Yearbook

Sensei's Report

Another year has flown by very quickly, it felt like if you blinked you would have missed it but when I started to review everything we have done this year I realised that we have certainly crammed a lot in.

With all the success we experienced throughout the year the most exciting thing for me was welcoming so many quality new students to the dojo this year. Overall our student numbers are a little down on previous years, but the quality of the students is certainly well up. The new white and yellow belts in our juniors have come in with a fresh keen attitude and have put the pressure on some of the existing students to lift their game which the majority have. I really feel our juniors are in for a very big year in 2018.

In our Little Champions the new Little Champions Manual grading system has proven a big hit and has driven a lot of improvement for our youngest karateka. I feel our current crop of Little Champions is one of the strongest we have had in years and are really looking forward to seeing them continue to grow and develop. I can see some future black belts and leaders in this group.

The Little Champions Manual has been very successful in its first year and we will continue to use the skill based system for grading our Little Champions in 2018 with a few improvements based on what we have learnt this year. One of the biggest changes will be the tracking of stripes and belts on the new Zenplanner dojo management system. Details of how this will work will come out in the new year.

Our Senior students have also continued to grow and develop throughout 2017. We have a very dedicated group that continue to train hard and are always looking to improve. The support they give each other, and new students is very commendable and has set a great culture for the dojo. In 2018 I hope to see this group grow in numbers and in rankings.

At our Upper Coomera Dojo Senpai Sam has done a great job with a very keen small group of students training every Saturday. I have not been able to get out there as much as I would have liked this year but when I have gone to Upper Coomera I have been impressed with the standard of the students and the development of the leaders and of Senpai Sam as an instructor. Whilst 2017 has been a year of internal growth, 2018 is going to be the year of big growth as we add the Monday night classes at Upper Coomera.

Throughout the year our leadership team has really taken it up a notch and bodes very well for the future of Chito-Ryu Karate on the Gold Coast. Many of our Senior Leaders are now at the stage where they can competently take a class which has now allowed us to add the extra classes at Upper Coomera and will position us for further expansion in the future.

You will see a review of many of the events that occurred throughout 2017 later in this yearbook but I would just like to make a special mention of our Soke Cup Team. This team was the most dedicated, focused and well-prepared team I have ever taken, and the result certainly show the reward for all the hard work put in. It was a pleasure to coach this team and they all did the Gold Coast Dojo proud with how they represented us both at the tournament and at the functions around the Soke Cup.

Moving into 2018

2018 is going to be a very significant year for Gold Coast Chito-Ryu Karate. Not only are we expanding the classes at our first Branch Dojo, but we are also improving our processes and systems to enhance the experience for all our members. We have always offered a great system of karate with what I believe to be a dojo of great character and now we are going to update our system and resources to be up there with the best available.

Our new Zenplanner Dojo Management System is going to make the student experience even easier with the ability to manage your membership, book events and seminars, purchase equipment online, track your training and grading process and more.

Our new eDojo will grow into an invaluable resource to enhance your training experience and help you become the best you can be.

We will be offering more specialised seminars, so you can accelerate your learning and achieve your goals faster.

We will be working harder to grow the dojo and our karate family, so you have more people to share your training with.

On top of all this we will continue to offer our usual great events such as Seminars with Soke Sensei, Phillips Shihan, the QLD Camp, Tournaments, Beach Training, Kangeiko and lots of awesome classes.

There is lots to be excited about from everything that has happened in 2017 and even more to be excited about for 2018. Get your goals for the new year organised and get into the dojo as soon as you can in the new year to start working towards achieving them.

And finally, please tell all your friends, family, work mates or anybody that will listen to you about us and what we do. We would love to see them in the dojo as part of our Gold Coast Chito-Ryu Karate family.

President's Report

2017 has been another big year for the club with lots of highlights. We held our first Trivia Night and fun day. We had club visits from some of our more senior belts and we also watched some of our students participate in the Soke Cup held in Japan.

Our first trivia night was a great success with lots of fun for all the family and I look forward to next year's trivia night. For those of you that did not get a chance to come along this year, keep a look out for the date for 2018 and lock it in your diary. We also held a fun day & 100 Kata challenge to help raise funds for some new competition mats. Though I was personally unable to attend the fun day, by all accounts it was a lot of fun and I have been informed that the chocolate toss game proved to be very popular. We also have just done a Bunnings Sausage sizzle. These kinds of fundraising events along with our tournaments cannot function without the support and hard work of our volunteers and I would like to thank all of you that have given up some of your own time to support this amazing club. If you have not had chance to volunteer there will be plenty of chance in 2018, which I am sure will be another fun filled year at the club

Throughout the year our students have been privileged to train with some of our more senior belts, including Martin Philips Shiha, Michael Noonan Renshi, Higuchi Kyoshi and Soke Sensei, from the attendance seen at the dojo during these visits I think it is safe to say that these training sessions are not just a huge learning experience but also a lot of fun.

This year Sensei Adam Higgins, Anthony Horgan, Samantha Lenton, Ben Dempsey, Kazumi Tominga, Brendan Young, Joshua Sheath, Jason Lucas, Darren and Jimamelia Clark and Nathan Tang was lucky enough to represent Australia in the Soke Cup held in Kumamoto, Japan. These guys trained very hard throughout the year and certainly did our club very proud bringing home 2 Gold, 2 Silver and 9 Bronze Medals.

I would like to say a huge well done to Nathan Tang and Jimamelia Clark who following on from their Soke Cup achievements have also been placed on the Trinity Lutheran College Sporting Wall of Fame.

Once again, our committee members have been outstanding, Treasurer Chantal Higgins continues to be invaluable, we welcomed Rick Parry to the committee who has already proven to be a wealth of knowledge and Samantha Lenton who is doing an excellent job as Secretary, it is a pleasure to work alongside you guys and I would like to thank you for all your efforts and hard work.

Finally, I would like to say a huge thank you to our amazing students and parents for been a part of our club and family and for all the support you continue to show.

Bring on 2018

Club President

Upper Coomera Dojo

We've had another great year at Upper Coomera with new students starting and more experienced students stepping up. Our focus on Saturday mornings at the Upper Coomera Community Centre is on basics and kata, as well as dojo kumite and kumite tag. And we always manage to fit in some fun, working on the seven wrist escapes, trying a more advanced kata, punching the senior belts, or just playing a game at the end of class. The kids love to play Stuck in Shiko Dachi or Red Rover (with a karate theme) while the adults often prefer a game of karate charades.

In amongst all the fun we work hard and the results have been clear, with our regular students achieving new belts throughout the year.

The Upper Coomera dojo depends on the support of our fantastic leaders: Elisha Dorley, John Lenton, and Charlotte O'Hanlon. And some of our younger leaders are stepping up too, with Millie Dorley and Levi Lenton spending quality time with small groups, helping them improve their kicks and working with the newer students on basics like stepping, punching, and blocking.

As a result of this team effort, the Upper Coomera dojo has a real family feel that echoes the welcoming environment we experience at the Ashmore dojo.

It was also great to see some of our Upper Coomera students stepping up to give tournaments a try this year, with Oscar Wheeler placing in his events at the final tournament for the year. Our amazing Upper Coomera karate family really stepped it up for our tournament mat fundraiser as well, with the Cunnington Family donating an astonishing $500 to the cause. We're incredibly grateful for the support we receive from our Upper Coomera families.

This year has also seen one of our youngest students step it up a notch. Earlier in the year, four-year-old Toby Wheeler joined in some of the activities before returning to the safety of the sidelines. He eventually took the leap and did an entire class and he hasn't looked back, quickly earning his first two Little Champion tips due to his excellent concentration and ability to demonstrate a strong beginning in basics.

Next year will see even more expansion for the Upper Coomera dojo with the addition of Monday night classes. Juniors and Little Champions will train from 5pm, with Juniors and Seniors (13+) classes running from 6pm until 7:20pm. We can't wait to see these classes take off. They start from Monday 15 January. And we'll be back on Saturday mornings with our all-ages class from 11am until 12pm.

We hope to see the Upper Coomera grow and we welcome Ashmore students to train at the Upper Coomera dojo any time.

See you on the floor!

2017 Annual Awards

2017 Budoka of the Year – Sam Lenton

Sam Lenton has really stepped up another level throughout the year with her training, teaching and support for the club. She is very focussed on preparing for an invite to challenge for her black belt and has geared her training towards achieving this goal attending every possible session she can and really taking onboard the lessons presented. The extra work Sam does is obvious in how her karate has begun to change in particular over the last few months.

As an instructor Sam does a great job leading the Upper Coomera dojo as well as at the Ashmore dojo. If I ever need help in a class or to cover a class Sam is always there. She has approached her teaching with the same focus on learning and improving as she approaches her karate and has improved significantly in this area proving herself more than capable of running engaging, fun classes where students not only enjoy themselves but learn along the way.

As a club person Sam is a committee member of the GC Chito-Ryu Karate Club inc. and volunteers her time and energy to help grow our club.

Sam is a valuable member of the Gold Coast Chito-Ryu Karate community and fitting recipient of the 2017 Budoka of the Year.

2017 Senior Karateka of the Year – Leonard Lam

This year's Senior student of the year was a difficult decision with so many wonderful karateka in our group who are all very dedicated to their training and show fantastic ability. When I really started to look closely at it and went past who has the best kick, the best kata etc. and started to look at the values in karate that we admire Leonard's name started to emerge.

Leonard has been a student with me since 2009 and in that time, he has come a very long way. When Leonard first started he was a shy young boy who struggled to communicate without stuttering. The technical focus and coordination required for karate has never come naturally to Leonard and along the way he has faced many challenges with lots of set-backs through failed gradings and watching others move ahead of him but Leonard has always persevered and kept working and kept turning up to the classes and kept working.

Some of the students that he has watched overtake him have long since gone but Leonard is still here training. After each grading whether successful or not Leonard is back the very next classes asking questions about what he needs to do to grade the next time.

Since he has started Leonard's confidence has grown and his stutter is rarely sighted. Leonard is a big part of the family at the dojo and will always be the first to say "g'day" to everyone when he arrives and "see-ya" when he leaves. Every year when Soke Sensei comes one of the first questions he asks me is whether the big Chinese boy still trains and every year I can happily say yes, he is still here trying his hardest.

Leonard's growth, perseverance and character is something we can all aspire to and makes him a deserving recipient of the Senior Student of the Year award.

2017 Junior Karateka of the Year – Axel Schnebli

Sometimes a Junior student can sneak under your radar and you forget how young he really is. Axel is one of those people. Axel is very quiet and is often seen, not heard (which is a great trait for a karateka). Often due to the way Axel presents himself I communicate to him as if he was much older with my explanations.

Axel challenges himself by training in the senior class in which he is often the youngest person in the class. There are some other younger juniors that train the first half of the senior class but Axel always trains the full 2 hour class no matter how tired he is.

Axel's karate technique continues to make steady progress. As one of the highest ranked juniors at the club Axel could never be accused of being cocky or over-confident, in fact he is probably the opposite. I get the impression sometimes that he doesn't realise how good he is at times. Being humble is a very good trait to have, and one I have found very common amongst very senior karateka in Chito-Ryu.

Axel has a big future in karate and I look forward to watching him continue to grow through his great attitude and consistent approach.

2017 Little Champion Karateka of the Year – Dylan Preston

Dylan joined us at the dojo this year and has immediately stood out with his dedication towards learning and improving. Dylan has really embraced the new skills system for the Little Champions gradings. He identifies his next skill early and works hard to get it right.

Dylan has moved through the ranks very quickly as a result of his natural ability and dedicated study and is now one of the leaders in the classes setting a great example for others to follow. He is always focused and trying his hardest whilst demonstrating the good etiquette and manners we demand of our karateka.

A big future awaits Dylan in Chito-Ryu Karate if he continues along the path he has started.

Year in Review

Beach Training

We got to have 1 out of the 2 beach trainings this year with rain interfering with the November event although we did get to do some training at the dojo to make up for it.

The February Beach training session was one of most attended yet with lots of kids there to enjoy the morning.

Kangeiko

It was great to get back up the mountain for some special winter training. Participants this year were Adam Higgins, Anthony Horgan, Ben Dempsey, Daniel Golberg, Elisha Dorley, Darren Clark, Jimamelia Clark and Sasha MacPherson.

Training commenced with kata, kihons, bo, hojundo and meditation at various locations around the Twin Falls Circuit before we headed under the water at Rainbow Falls.

QLD Camp

The Qld camp is always a great fun event and is something everyone should try to get to every year. This year it was the Sunshine Coasts turn to host the camp, holding it at the excellent facilities at the Currimundi Recreation Centre. The camp is exceptional value when you add up all the training, accommodation, and meals. I am actually surprised that we don't get a lot more students attending the camp.

Every training session had a great spirit and energy which drove each person to push even harder making a great environment for learning and growth. The beach training session was very popular as was the social games on the Saturday night. By the end of the camp there were a lot of very tired karateka that fell asleep with a big smile on their face.

Training with Michael Noonan Renshi

We were very fortunate that Noonan Sensei from the Tasseikan Dojo in Sydney decided to have a holiday on the Gold Coast to celebrate his birthday and was keen to come in for a couple of hours of training one morning.

It was very short notice, but the Gold Coast Senior students were quick to respond to the opportunity for some extra training and were all very impressed by Noonan Sensei's technique and teaching style. I personally hadn't had the opportunity to train with Noonan Sensei for several years and was very impressed with how someone at his level could have still improved so noticeably. He still says he has so much to learn though!

It does make me so grateful that I discovered Chito-Ryu Karate and that I have been allowed to train in it for the last 20+ years. In some styles of karate, they say once you get past nidan there is not that much more to learn, and you just get extra ranks for the service you put in to the style. In Chito-Ryu Karate-Do that could not be further from the truth. In Chito-Ryu it feels like the more you learn the more there is to learn.

This was highlighted to me at the seminar after the Soke Cup where I was observing out of the corner of my eye Noonan Sensei and another high-ranking karateka from Canada trying to execute a technique on one of the very large strong Canadians. These Sensei who I have the utmost respect for and wonder about how to achieve their level of karate where still trying to work something out. A small older Japanese Sensei (who unfortunately I do not know the name off) walked up motioned for them to move aside and executed the technique without much effort sending the larger Canadian Karateka crashing to the ground with ease before wandering off. The depth of knowledge and understanding in this system of karate is very special indeed.

Phillips Sensei Seminars

Shihan Martin Phillips head instructor of QLD Chito-Ryu Karate visited our dojo several times through the year attending events and taking seminars. Shihan Phillips has a great passion for Chito-Ryu Karate-Do and is very keen to see it grow throughout Queensland.

Each time Shihan Phillips visits he has some more ideas for training and teaching to share. The kids enjoyed some of his games and activities whilst the senior students enjoyed his insight and ideas on how to improve their technique. Visits to our dojo by Shihan Phillips are invaluable for those preparing for their dan gradings and are made possible thanks to the support of the GC Chito-Ryu karate Club Inc.

Soke Sensei & Higuchi Sensei Seminars

Once again we were fortunate to welcome the supreme instructor of Chito-Ryu Karate-Do and second generation Soke to our dojo this year. Accompanying him was one of his senior students Higuchi Kyoshi a master in Okinawan Kobudo. Having Soke Sensei visit our dojo to provide us with lessons is a very unique experience. It has been described by some people as the equivalent of having Ronaldo come teach soccer, or Beethoven come teach music.

Soke Sensei's lessons followed the normal pattern with lots of stretching to prepare the body, basics to get the body working properly, hard work to build the spirit and then some specialised training for technique. It is not a flashy formula, but it is one I have certainly seen create amazing karateka. Higuchi Sensei was also great to learn off as he shared his passion and understanding of Okinawan Kobudo.

Once again their visit to our dojo was made possible due to the support of the GC Chito-Ryu Karate Club Inc. Seminars with instructors of this level would cost $100's of dollars each normally but through the support of the club Gold Coast Members were able to experience it for no additional charge.

Soke Cup

After being postponed for 12 months due to the devastating Earthquakes that hit Kumamoto in 2016 the Soke Cup was held in August this year. The full result can be found later in the tournament results section of this yearbook but suffice to say the Gold Coast Team (and all of Australia) did very well. The biggest results were the Australian Team Kumite team coming second which is an equal best result for us. The Gold Coast was well represented in this team with Sensei Adam Higgins, Senpai Anthony Horgan and Brendan Young part of the 5 man team. The other highlight result was Brendan Young being awarded the Soke Cup Champion for his division.

The Soke Cup is not just about results, it is about the experience of preparing for and then performing on the world stage. It is about the experience of being part of the Australian Team and representing your dojo in a foreign country. It is about the experience of a new culture and meeting new people. And the Gold Coast members certainly did all that with lots of hard work in the leadup and then representing the Gold Coast dojo well at all times as they visited the Sohonbu dojo, took part in tours and seminars and got to see Kumamoto.

The next Soke Cup is being held in August 2019 at Penticton, Canada. If you would like to be part of the team let Sensei Adam know now and start preparing a saving to make it happen when formal applications open at the end of next year.

International Chito-Ryu Clinic

One of the highlights of the whole Soke Cup Event is the International clinic where students from all over the world come together to train. Sensei Adam, Senpai Anthony and Brendan Young attended the clinic.

The first part of the clinic this time was on the Ryukyu Kobudo that Soke Sensei and Higuchi Sensei have been introducing to the Chito-Ryu Syllabus for senior students.

The second half of the clinic was focused on some of the Henshuho and Nage no Kata techniques with Soke Sensei amazing everyone with how effortlessly he was able to execute the technique through his superior understanding of body mechanics and karate technique.

Fun Day

Our first Annual Fun Day was a fun day! Starting with the 100 kata challenge where a number of students performed the kata Shihohai 100 times in a row. It was great to see some beginners stepping in and giving it a go, it was great to have them beside us doing the kata and I am sure it was a great experience for them. This followed by different games and activities and finishing with the water balloon fight.

The Fun Day was put on by the club to help raise funds to support the club purchasing two new competition mats and it certainly was a great success made even more successful by the generous donation of $500 by the Cunningham family from the Upper Coomera dojo.

Brown & Black Belt Camp

The annual QLD Brown & Black Belt camp continues to grow and is a highlight of the Chito-Ryu Calendar for the senior students. At the camp there is a large focus on the senior curriculum and of course a very strong focus on basics with a focus on the direction the senior instructors wish to see the technique in QLD head.

At this year's camp we were very privileged to have Michael Noonan Renshi in attendance. Noonan Sensei is the highest ranked Chito-Ryu Karateka in Australia and has a wealth of knowledge and experience to share. His technique and the examples he demonstrated were a great inspiration for everyone to see what they can aspire to achieve through a dedicated study of Chito-Ryu Karate-Do.

The training was very intense and constant. In the first session we spent over 2 hours on just doing a basic tsuki from uchi hachi dachi and were still left wanting more. Another big area of focus was on henshuho an area that Noonan Sensei has spent a lot of time studying and had a lot of ideas to share with us.

In between each session was lots of stretching which is important for developing a healthy body. It was very evident watching Noonan Sensei's technique just how important stretching was for good technique. Not to do high flashy kicks but instead to be able to develop an elastic whippy motion in your body for delivering effective powerful techniques. Anyone that was on the receiving end of his techniques could testify to just how much power he was able to generate.

The QLD Brown & Black Belt camp will continue to grow as Chito-Ryu in Queensland grows. In the future we hope to see 100's of senior students in attendance for what is always a great weekend. This year was so good I didn't even stop to take any photos.

Senior Australian Instructors at the 2017 Soke Cup with Soke Sensei – Sensei Martin Phillips (Sunshine Coast), Sensei Michael Noonan (Sydney), Soke Sensei, Sensei Mark Snow (Blue Mountains)

Sensei Adam in Japan

In March Sensei Adam returned to Japan for more training with Soke Sensei. Staying at the Sohonbu Sensei Adam is able to get lots of extra training and immerse in the training culture of the dojo.

Training consisted of early morning sessions, followed by some day sessions and then evening training. Soke Sensei took the morning session and some of the other sessions, whilst Higuchi Sensei provided some Kobudo training. Other instructors to train under included Naoyuki Sensei and Minowa Sensei. At a couple of the sessions Lee Sensei from Japan was in attendance with some of his students from Canada.

These trips provided an opportunity for Sensei Adam to continue developing his karate, and help ensure we stay abreast of the latest developments whilst also building strong relationships with senior instructors and students in Japan.

Superhero Day

The Superhero Day is one of our great fun days for the Little Champions. They get to come to class dressed as their favourite superhero. The class includes superhero type activities and is one of the favourite events on the calendar for our youngsters and instructors alike.

Student of the Month

The student of the month is voted for by the leadership team. After each class the leaders nominate the student they thought performed the best in their class. At the end of the month Sensei Adam tallies up and reviews the results to decide on the winner.
